

ATTRIBUTES FINAL

General Attributes:

The graduate holding a Bachelors degree from the Program of Spanish Language and Translation should have the following attributes:

First: Academic Attributes

The graduate should be able to:

1. Read, write and speak Spanish fluently.
2. Translate specialized texts (legal, political, economic, journalistic, etc.) from and into Spanish.
3. Be competent at consecutive translation.
4. Master a second language of his/her choice (French, Italian, German, Turkish or Chinese) in addition to Spanish, which is the language of specialization.
5. Master the Arabic language which enables him/her to translate from and into Spanish.
6. Analyze literary texts that represent different trends of thought.
7. Discriminate between the linguistic structures and communicative functions of the Spanish language.
8. Develop an understanding of other cultures particularly the Western civilization.
9. Identify with own national culture and identity.

Second: National and Cultural Attributes:

The graduate should be able to:

10. Interact with different cultures, as a result of studying Spanish, Arabic, and another language of his/her choice.
11. Respect and accept the Other, despite his/her difference.
12. Participate constructively in cultural projects.