

ATTRIBUTES FINAL

General Attributes:

The graduate holding a Bachelor's degree from the Program of Chinese Language and Translation should have the following attributes:

First: Academic Attributes

The graduate should be able to:

1. Read, write and speak Chinese fluently
2. Translate specialized texts (legal, political, technical, business, etc.) from and into Chinese
3. Be competent at consecutive, simultaneous and sub-titling translation
4. Master a second language of his/her choice (French, Spanish, Italian, German, Turkish) in addition to Chinese, which is the language of specialization
5. Master the Arabic language which enables him/her to translate from and into Chinese
6. Analyze literary texts that represent different trends of thought
7. Discriminate between the linguistic structures and communicative functions of the Chinese language.
8. Develop an understanding of other cultures particularly the Chinese civilization
9. Identify with own national culture and identity.